Sustainable transformation has many dimensions and takes place in a variety of fields. Accordingly, the range of possible projects that can be developed and worked on in the BA Transformation & Sustainability is broad. To name just a few examples: it can involve projects in the area of sustainable neighborhood or village development, the founding of a startup, the development of a campaign for an NGO, or a sustainability strategy for a company. It can also include the initiation of a cultural festival or a platform for networking changemakers, or something entirely different.

- When registering, a sketch of your own transformation project or a corresponding project idea must be submitted. This should clearly show what transformation concern drives you, what the project aims at, what approaches are planned or considered for implementation, and what expectations you have from the BA Transformation and Sustainability programme. The sketch should be 2-3 pages long (3000-4000 characters). You may, but are not required to, include materials that document previous projects and ongoing activities related to the planned studies. For any questions or guidance regarding your project idea and sketch, please feel free to reach out to Jens Badura, the head of the study program. He is available to assist you.
- In addition, the following documents must be uploaded online:
 - Curriculum vitae with photo and details of all qualifications (education and training), employment and language skills.
 - A letter of motivation in English or German.

Notification of
