

INTERNATIONAL WEEK SAN SEBASTIAN - BILBAO

INNOVATION THROUGH ORGANIZATIONAL, REGIONAL AND CULTURAL CLUSTERING

APRIL 8 - 12, 2024

The University of Deusto, the oldest and one of the most renowned business universities in Spain, is located in one of the most innovative regions of Europe, the Basque Country. Lectures take place on both the Bilbao and the San Sebastian campuses.

The program features interactive seminars on cutting-edge topics, presented by leading experts, academics, and business executives. The focus of the week is on regional and organizational innovation culture, the typically Basque cooperative movements, and building clusters. Other topics include digitalization and business model innovation as well as managing from an intercultural and leadership perspective.

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

The academic content of the program is accompanied by culinary delights and optional sports activities that together enable us to experience the Basque culture in a variety of ways. An optional meeting will be organised on the Sunday evening before the official start of the week, with a brief introduction to the gastronomic customs of the Basque Country and an informal talk by the head of the week, Dr Jan Kraner, on what to expect in terms of the local customs and historical context. Officially, the international week starts on Monday on the San Sebastian campus. The mornings are usually dedicated to lectures and the afternoons are reserved for company visits. During the week, lectures will also be held on the campus in Bilbao, with accompanying company visits. There are also many cultural and culinary activities which are an integral part of the program, as well as optional sport events such as surfing and jogging on the coast.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon successful completion of the program participants will be able to

- Outline the requirements for a regional and organizational innovation culture,
- Know the reasons for investing in clusters and collaboration for innovation,
- Understand the possibilities of digitalization in combination with business model innovation,
- Demonstrate cultural and leadership awareness as applicable to an innovation culture,
- Internalize the Basque way of life and understand the roots of innovation

CREDITS

Seminar participants will earn 3 ECTS credits after the successful completion of the week and assignments.

ABOUT THE BASQUE COUNTRY

The Basque Autonomous Community is a region well-known for its high standard of living and for the upgrading of its economic sector during the last 30 years.

Historically, people in the area have been very entrepreneurial and many important Spanish companies were founded here. Some global companies also have their headquarters in the Basque Autonomous Community.

The region has been repeatedly ranked first in terms of per capita income, investment in R&D, as well as for having the lowest rate of unemployment in the Kingdom of Spain for many years. Moreover, it is considered the most innovative "region" within Europe.

Impacts of this successful development can be seen in Bilbao, i.e. with the Guggenheim Museum, and overall in the Basque Country. Also of interest, San Sebastian, with its people known for longevity, has the highest number of bars per square mile and the highest concentration of Michelin-rated restaurants in the whole world! Truly, this has to be a place of extraordinary innovation and culture!

The University of Deusto is known for its excellent reputation and its high-quality education. Like the HSLU, it is also AACSB accredited. It has its name from the local neighborhood in Bilbao called Deusto. The University of Deusto, the oldest business university in Spain, was founded in 1886 by the Jesuits and shines today with several campuses in the Basque Country and beyond.

PRACTICAL INFORMATION

GETTING TO SAN SEBASTIAN

San Sebastian is in Northern Spain in close proximity to the French border (Biarritz).

Teaming up with your colleagues is recommended in terms of travelling together or sharing a room if wished.

In order to travel there in spring, there are the following viable options:

Easiest: Fly with Swiss/Lufthansa from Zurich, Basel or Geneva to Bilbao and from there with the bus/train (approximately 1.5 hours) to San Sebastian.

Cheapest: Fly with Easy Jet from Basel to Bordeaux and then travel by train to San Sebastian (approximately 5 hours), by bus (approx. 3.45 – 4.35 hours) or rental car (approximately 3 hours) to San Sebastian. Note that car parking in the city costs about 20 Euros per day and is very limited in San Sebastian.

By train: Lucerne – Basle - Paris Gare de Lyon (change train station to) / Paris-Montparnasse – Biarritz – San Sebastian. The travel time is approximately 13 – 15 hours.

Another option: Fly with Easy Jet from Geneva to Bilbao and from there take the bus/train to San Sebastian.

We recommend that you book neither your flight nor your hotel until you have received confirmation from us that the international week will be conducted! Further, be aware that all types of insurance coverage are the responsibility of the participant.

WHERE TO STAY

We strongly recommend choosing a hotel or hostel in the Old Town (Parte Vieja) of San Sebastian (e.g. Hotel Atari, Sansebay Hotel, Pension Balerdi) or in a nearby area such as the very nice Hotel Niza. Please do not book a hotel near the university.

However, since hotels close to the old town are usually booked out well ahead, we suggest you inform yourself through trip advisor as to their ratings, and check availability. For budget-oriented participants, hostels are a nice option starting from 30 Euros per night – or AirBnB is an additional option for groups.

Staying close to the old town and, therefore, to the beach makes sense because the evening as well as sports activities usually end there. Also, the good restaurants are located in the old town where one usually enjoys dinner. Aside from being one of the nicest places in the area, the walk along the Urumea River to the university in the morning is lovely.

TRANSPORTATION FROM THE AIRPORT

PROGRAM OUTLINES

Compulsory:

Classes in the morning and site visits in the afternoon are obligatory (09:00-17:30).

Almost compulsory:

The farewell dinner on Friday is an important part of the week (20:30 - 24:00 (or much later...)).

Not compulsory:

The almost daily sport activities in the morning or afternoon are optional.

Usually the academic program ends by around 17:30, however the bus ride back to San Sebastian can take up to 60 minutes depending on traffic conditions. Flexibility is needed.

HOW WE WORK

You should bring a laptop and writing utensils. You will be given reading assignments prior to the start of the week that you are expected to have read before the week starts. The exam on the last day will include questions from these assignments.

OTHER PRACTICAL INFORMATION

As a Swiss citizen, no visa is required. If you hold any other citizenship, please check the regulations for entering Spain. The Basque Country is the most expensive place in Spain to live. However, costs are about half those in Switzerland and this offers you the opportunity to eat in the best restaurants in the world, at prices which are barely a fourth of Swiss prices.

BEHAVIOUR / DRESSCODE

The Basque Country belongs to Spain, but is not Spanish in many ways. Be aware of the differences and try to avoid mentioning that you are in Spain, since local people do not always think so. The Basque start work early, as the Swiss do, and they are also punctual compared to the rest of Spain. Some delays do still happen on a regular basis though.

Regarding your attire: The Basque dress very elegantly, so please come dressed in "business casual". Nice trousers, a shirt and nice shoes are suitable. Please do not wear jeans, T-Shirts or sweatshirts. For sports, just bring jogging clothes and jogging shoes; the rest will be provided.
