International executive education close to practice

At the Institute of Business and Regional Economics IBR we offer you taught-in-English, practice-oriented executive education – from one-day seminars to doctoral programs. Take advantage of these unique opportunities and put your CAS credits towards an MAS or DBA. Your studies and your career are compatible thanks to flexible program models.

Doctor of Business Administration DBA

Earn your doctorate part-time, based on the MAS International Management or an equivalent degree. Train your ability to act confidently in an international environment with sound leadership, methodological and problem solving skills.

CAS International Management

The CAS International Management provides a wide range of tools to seize business opportunities for your organization in global markets. Designed as an intensive, practice-driven executive program, you will develop your management skills to succeed in an international environment.

International Weeks

Take a week out of your work or study routine and get a taste of international air. At renowned universities abroad, you can dedicate yourself to exploring state-of-the-art themes and discovering countries and people away from touristy paths.

MAS International Management

Learn to approach challenges in an international management and leadership context in a goal-oriented manner. The MAS International Management empowers you to do this with a wide range of practical topics, combined with sound theoretical knowledge.

CAS Leading Global Teams and Projects

Learn to approach challenges in an international management and leadership context in a goal-oriented manner. The MAS International Management empowers you to do this with a wide range of practical topics, combined with sound theoretical knowledge.
